MR. LACEY

Moran (Kansas) High School, Baker University, and University of Kansas, furnished the educational background for W. A. Lacey, superintendent of Walla Walla schools.

Mr. Lacey taught in Reno, Nevada; Pomeroy, and Pullman, Washington; and Casper, Wyoming; before becoming principal of Wa-Hi. After several years in this position he became superintendent of public schools of Walla Walla four years ago.

During his stay he has seen Wa-Hi grow from a school of 1000 students to one of 1375.

He believes that present day high school students are definitely superior to those of several school generations ago, in grasp of subject matter, and in their disposition toward school in general.

He also believes that in spite of recent developments, schools must improve still further to fill modern needs, and must have a greater proportion of vocational work to care for those students who will be unable to continue their education beyond the secondary schools.

MR. LOBAUGH

Mr. Lobaugh, Wa-Hi's well-liked principal, amazes teachers and pupils alike by his exceptional ability to associate names, faces and facts.

He came to Wa-Hi from Pendleton, where he was also high school principal.

After graduation from Grandview (Washington) High School, Mr. Lobaugh took his B.A. degree at Willamette University and his M.A. degree at University of Washington. He has also done graduate work at University of California.

In his four years at Wa-Hi he has been instrumental in strengthening graduation requirements and enriching the activity program, especially dramatics and speech. He was practically the founder of the cross state league.

He is the current president of the Washington High School Principals' Association.

He believes that the high school has a great responsibility for the moral, physical, and emotional aspects of its pupils' lives, and that scholarship should be combined with the qualities of a well-balanced personality.

On the two following pages are presented those graduating seniors who have been adjudged to be outstanding in qualities of character, scholarship, leadership, and accomplishment. They were selected by a committee of persons in a position to know the seniors and to evaluate their achievements. No member of the committee was in any way connected with the Royal Blue other than through serving as a part of this group. Here they are—those seniors who have helped make Wa-Hi a better school!

JUNIORS

During the past year the juniors have figured prominently in school affairs.

During this year members of the junior class have not only formed the nucleus of the varsity football and basketball teams but the baseball team as well. Athletes of whom the class of 1941 is especially proud are Paul Garland, Jack Kenney, Bud Miller, Dick Clarke, Dick Eggers, David Cox, Jack Melton, Darrel Gilliam, and Warren Bischoff. Three of the champion fencers of the Northwest, Wallace Longmire, Bobby Mackie, and DeWitt Barre, are members of this class as well. Patty Eggers, Patricia Hoover, and Lemore Russell are also undefeated by any girls' team of fencers. Many other girls in the class have earned letters in girls' sports.

Several members of the class hold the highest scholastic averages in the entire school at the present time.

Eleanor Scheece, Harold Pratt, Dorothy Kelley, and Dorothy Chriscoe are members of the varsity debate team. Eleanor Scheece and Harold Pratt also had important parts in the all-school play this year. Harold Pratt, as a dramatic delegate, and Dorothy Chriscoe, as a speech delegate, represented Wa-Hi at the Dramatic Festival at the University of Washington and the Speech Festival this year.

Several members of the class have also been active in the various fields of journalism.

Numerous offices that require qualities of leadership have also been filled by members of the class. Bob Boldman has served as president of the Camera Club during the past year and Marion Fox has been president of the Future Craftsmen of America and Harold Pratt has been president of the Troubadours for the past semester. Harold Dyer holds an important office in the Legislative Assembly and Doris McCauley is at present treasurer of Girls' Federation.

Officers for the class of 1941 have been as follows:

FIRST SEMESTER	OFFICE	SECOND SEMESTER
Reginald Thompson	President	Dick Clarke
Johnnie Bennefield	Vice-President	Harold Dyer
Virginia Pratt	Secretary	Lee Coultas
Bessie Kilbourne	Girls' Council	Mildred Cannon

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

The Wa-Hi students elected Leland Nelson to act as their student-body president during the year 1939-1940. Under his able guidance the school has had a very successful year.

Alf Transeth was elected vice-president. His major duty was to head the Legislative Assembly.

Other officers elected were: Angelo Costello, treasurer; Barbara White, secretary, and Pat Walters, yell queen.

Leland Nelson appointed six members of the senior class to hold the positions on his cabinet. They are: Marian Palmer, commissioner of assemblies; Keith Bergevin, inter-school relations; Patty Copeland, finance; George Romine, halls; Frank Woods, building and grounds; Joan Martin, organization; and Dick Kenyon, stage.

Also members of the cabinet are Alice Garrett, president of the Girls' Federation; Blaine Burton, president of the Boys' Federation; John Neel, editor of the Wa-Hi Journal; and Dean Loney, chief justice of the court.

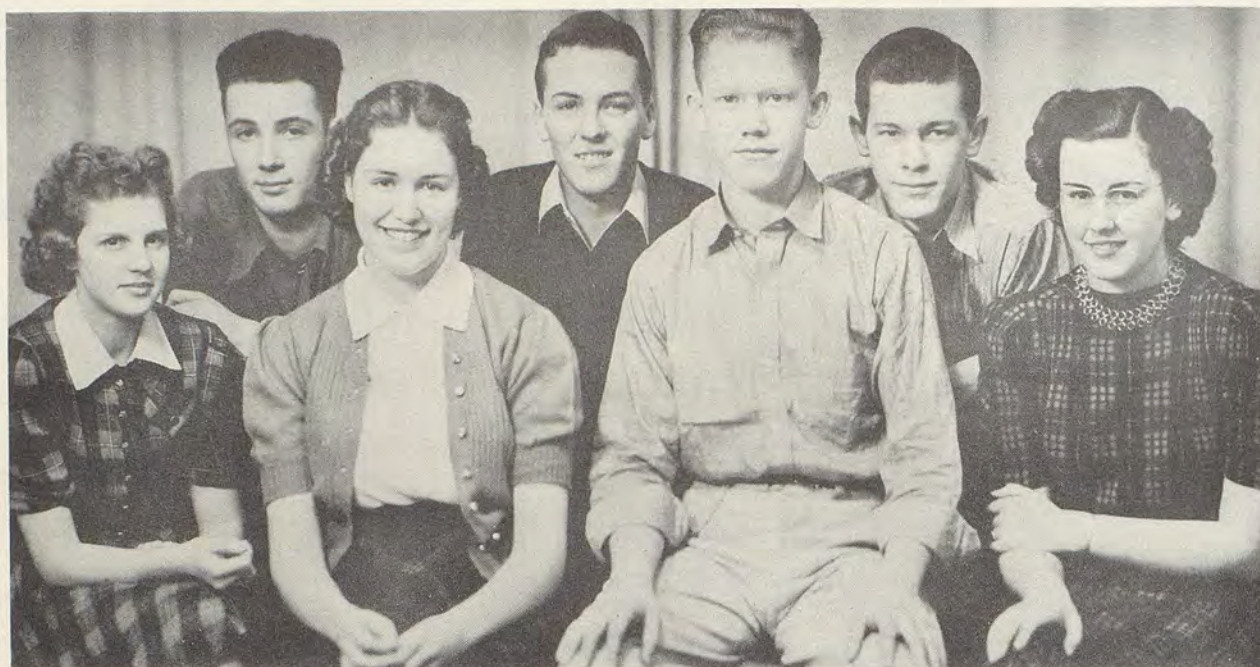

During the year several new laws have been passed by the cabinet and legislative assembly. The yell queen or king was voted an official member of the cabinet. A bill was passed to recognize minor sports, such as tennis and golf by granting small letters and emblems to them. Speech activities are also to be recognized. A pin may be earned by the point system.

The most important law passed this year was the bill of compulsory locks on lockers. Next year money is to be taken from the student fund to buy locks for the freshmen. The school will do this every year till all lockers have locks.

It was also the duty of the cabinet to select delegates to represent Wa-Hi at the Journalism and School Leaders Conference at Seattle, and the High School Student convention at Washington State College. The cabinet chose the All-School play, and voted on Wa-Hilarities.

In his capacity as chief justice of the court, Dean Loney appointed Jean Russell, Reginald Thompson, Patty Morrison, and Eugene Struthers. Doris MacCauley served one semester as did Virginia Pratt, Billy Fouts, and Norman Smedes.

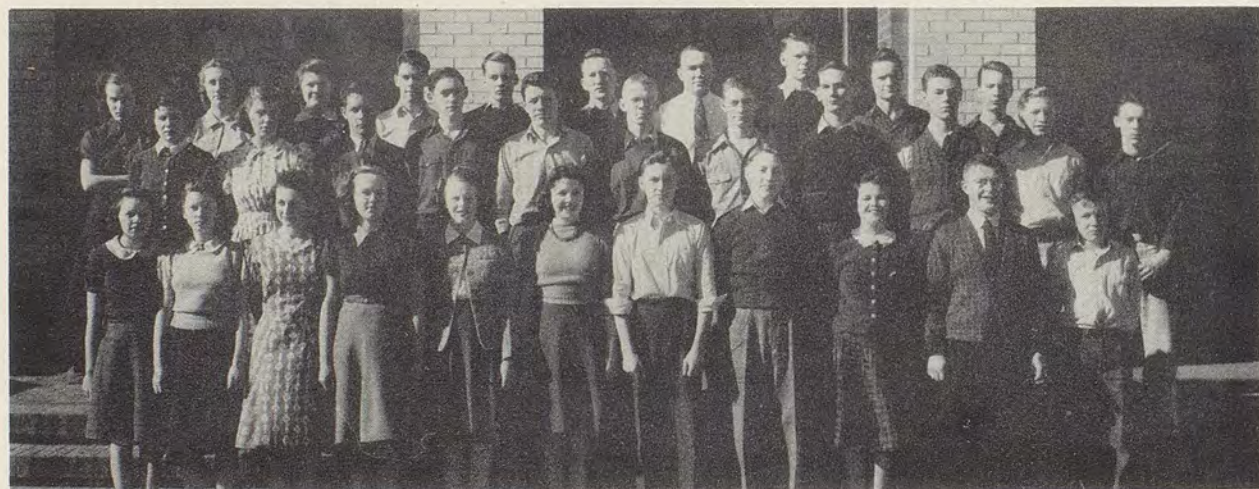

The chief justice with the help of the other members of the court tried and judged the students who had committed some misdemeanor. It was voted by the Legislative Assembly to give the court power to revoke the student body tickets of the students who were brought before the court with several serious misdemeanors against them. It is felt that the court has done splendid work this year.

GIRLS' FEDERATION

For the Girls' Federation this year, '39-'40, has truly been a memorable one. Its principle of creating friendly and intimate relationship among the girls has been greatly furthered by the many activities that require the help of every girl in the school.

The assemblies have consisted of a very helpful talk by Elizabeth Fitten from Seattle, talks by four well known career women in the community, a charming exhibition by Delores Kirk's dancing class, and a very enjoyable play "Not Quite Such a Goose" ably directed by Virginia Pratt.

For the social side, the old custom of giving a tea for the senior girls and their mothers was revived. This year, two were given under the leadership of Jeanne De-Boer and Carlotta Nelson. As an autumn highlight, a Halloween masquerade party was held in the girls' gym; an outstanding feature was a toe dance by Virginia Summers, a talented young sophomore. To wind up the school year, the annual party for the incoming freshman girls was given.

An important phase of Federation activities, Wa-Hi has taken part in two conferences: one at Dayton, Washington, and the Tri-State Conference held at Baker, Oregon, this year. They gave the girls an opportunity to talk over ideals and problems and how to prepare themselves for their place in the world.

As its gift to the school, the Girls' Federation is continuing its work on the lounge that was given to the school last year. Many improvements have been made, and now the lounge plays a very important role as a gathering place for the girls and as a pleasant setting for many informal affairs.

BOYS' FEDERATION

The Boys' Federation was formed two years ago under the supervision of Mr. Paul V. Anderson. The primary purpose of the organization at that time was to get the boys of Wa-Hi better acquainted. Other aims of the federation are to aid needy boys financially, and to welcome new boys to Wa-Hi. This second aim has become equally important to the former chief purpose.

The federation functioned this year under the leadership of president Blaine Burton; vice-president, Alfred Transeth; secretary-treasurer, Arthur Banks; and faculty advisor, Paul Anderson. Work and clothing have been provided for approximately 30 boys by the federation this year.

Another achievement of the organization, in cooperation with the Hi-Y Club, was the sending of a delegation of 24 boys to the Older Boys' Conference held annually in Spokane. The delegates derived a great deal of benefit besides having an enjoyable week end, from the conference.

Mirrors were placed in the boys' rooms by the Federation. The Boys' Federation collaborated with the Girls' Federation in helping Chief Goodfellow accumulate food and clothing for the underprivileged at Christmas time.

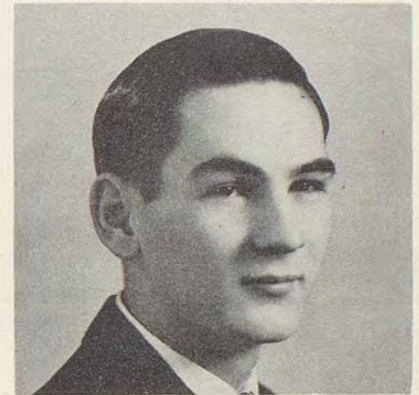

Meetings of the federation are held periodically throughout the year. They are held first, for educational purposes; second, for entertainment; third, to discuss problems that are directly concerned with boys; fourth, to bring the boys closer together.

ROYAL BLUE

The function of the Royal Blue is to bring to you a faithful record of the school year. People in the school, the groups to which they belong, and the achievements of the people and the groups go to make up the record. It is not the purpose of this publication to decide what is important and what is not, but to portray the life of the school as an integrated whole.

The Royal Blue is an entirely self-supporting publication. It receives no help from the student ticket fund and carries no advertising or courtesy cards. Subscriptions alone finance the annual. No attempt is made to sell to any of the town's business firms or individuals not directly connected with Walla Walla High School. This then, is a publication of the school, by the school and for the school.

The first step in putting out a yearbook is to sell enough copies that the publication costs can be met. Size and general plan are directly proportionate to the number of books that are sold. Publication of the 1940 Royal Blue was assured when more than 650 copies were ordered by October 31. Available records and memory indicate that this is the greatest number to have been sold for several years at least.

From this increased student support has come an annual increased in size and more elaborate in plan. The 1940 edition has 112 pages besides end sheets. It has more than 600 individual pictures and 14 pages of informal pictures of student and faculty life in and around the school. Pictures throughout are appreciably larger than has been customary in the past. No student life picture is smaller than one-quarter page. Sports have been allotted greater space than formerly. Noticeably greater coverage has been given to spring sports and girls' sports. The entire book has stood up and stretched and has remained spread out.

Yearbooks do not "just grow." Behind every issue are many hours of careful planning and hard work on the part of some group of persons. More than 300 hours of staff work have gone into the 1940 Royal Blue. Most of these hours have been spent after the 2:30 dismissal time. The chief officers and those who in some capacity or other have worked on the staff are pictured on these two pages. Some have been outstanding and deserve mention. Marjorie Morris and Ted Rich were the star salespeople of the group. Dorothy Chriscoe has been the hardest worker of the staff, performing her assigned tasks in addition to helping others with theirs. Roy Rogers conceived and drew up the plan for the enlarged sports section.

Barbara Kolars worked as official typist. Roberta Gowen as editor coordinated the work of the general staff and took personal charge of arranging group pictures. Ruth Naimy, in addition to directing the sales campaign, spent much time in indexing the volume. She was assisted by Betty LeRoux and Esther Zahl. Frances Marshall, Helen Zahl, and Clarabelle Hulbush did much of the routine work.

Bob Boldman and Bob Howard were responsible for most of the informal pictures which appear in the book.

Important contributions not on the regular staff were Frank Boewer, Eleanor Scheece, John Neel, Josephine Jauslin, Patty Copeland, and Maxine Shimbo.

A necessary adjunct to the publication of a yearbook is the influence of experience and mature viewpoint contributed by the advisor. Mr. Goodrich filled this spot in the Royal Blue organization.

QUILL AND SCROLL

Quill and Scroll, international honorary society for high school journalists, was recently re-established at Wa-Hi. This spring, the group published a literary magazine composed of poems, stories, and essays, written by Wa-Hi students. The magazine, edited by Betty Rauh, featured selected material from English class work.

The club, advised by Mr. James Stevens, elected Charles Montgomery, president; Madeleine Howard, vice-president; and Roberta Gowen, secretary-treasurer.

DEBATE

The newly organized inter-school debate squad of Wa-Hi met Rosalia, Colfax, Starbuck, and Clarkston in district competition this year, winning four of the eight debates. The squad also competed with Lewiston, Pasco, and Pendleton in practice debates. The question, debated by high schools nationally, was "Resolved: That the federal government should own and operate the railroads."

Dorothy Kelley, Oscar Seawell, Eleanor Scheece, Harold Pratt, and Dorothy Chriscoe debated the affirmative side of the problem while Leslie Wendler, Dick Kenyon, Leland Nelson, and Dorothy Chriscoe upheld the negative side of the question. As all members will return next year except Leland Nelson, Dick Kenyon, and Oscar Seawell, the squad is expected even to better the record it made this year. The teams were coached by Mr. Dean Lobaugh and Miss Meta Pfeiffer.

SPEECH FESTIVAL

Joan Martin, Margaret Cates, Dick Kenyon, and Dorothy Chriscoe were chosen from the Wa-Hi student body to represent Wa-Hi at the traditional annual speech Festival held on the University of Washington campus in March. Delegates entered the extemporaneous speech division and poetry interpretation division. Joan Martin and Dorothy Chriscoe received honors.

R. O. T. C.

The Wa-Hi R. O. T. C. unit is one of two such groups in Washington high schools.

Major Allison and Sergeant Mizony continue to have charge of the group.

Ordinarily the four companies drill outside for an hour each school day. During inclement weather the boys are kept busy by physical drill and classroom instruction by cadet officers. In addition, Sergeant Mizony conducts a series of lectures in the auditorium.

Each spring an army officer from the Ninth Corps Area inspects the local battalion in the municipal stadium. Last year the Wa-Hi unit received an honor rating. Also in the spring the Wa-Hi R. O. T. C. and the local National Guard hold a contest in military maneuvers.

FOOTBALL

Six wins, two losses, and one tie; 138 points scored to an opponent total of 38; two men placed on the Cross State League all-star first team; two on the all-star second team; one honorable mention. That is the essential information concerning the 1939 Blue Devil football season, the best in years.

Hometown crowds saw the boys in blue defeat Mac-Hi 20-0, Gonzaga 6-0, Bremerton 34-0, Lewiston 33-0, and lose to Stadium of Tacoma 12-7. Of these games, only one, that with Lewiston, was played in the afternoon, the others being night games.

On other fields Wa-Hi tamed the Dayton Bulldogs 7-0, won from Lincoln of Tacoma 17-7, tied Yakima 7-7, and lost to Everett 12-7.

First year letters were awarded to Williams, Cox, Gilliam, Boldman, Boewer, Garland, Hillyer, Hooper, and Hanson.

Several members of the team were named on all-star aggregations at the end of the season. Jack Melton and Warren Bischoff were chosen for the Cross State League all-star first team. Jack Kenney and Frank O'Dell for the second team, and Frank Woods received honorable mention.

The team will not be much affected by graduation this year as only eight members, Woods, Mathes, Hillyer, Jordan, Garrett, Oswald, Williams, and Hooper, are leaving school.

The team, in their third year under the coaching of Armond Jeffs, enjoyed the most successful season that a Wa-Hi team has had in several years.

WRESTLING

Chester Hillyer, 155, Stuart McIntyre, 105, and George Schaub, 105, won state championships in their weight divisions at the state boxing and wrestling meet in Pullman this spring.

In addition, the wrestlers have competed in meets with Dayton, Mac-Hi, Clarkston, and Pomeroy.

Other wrestlers who showed to advantage during the season were Kinman, 195; Perry, 145; Jackson, 210; Amen, 125; Strozinsky, 95; Dewey Sherwood, 165; Rogers, 165; Worth, 135; Clure, 145; and Oswald, 185.

BASKETBALL

The 1939-1940 basketball team ended the season with an exact average of .500, including all the tournament games, crosstate league tilts, and the warm-up meetings with other strong schools of the Northwest.

The first squad was composed of Miller, Cox, Kenney, Bowers, Bischoff, Fouts, Gilliam, Case, Owen, and Captain Warren Webb.

Miller and Kenney were high scorers for the season, each tallying 69 points in the nine league contests.

This year's basketball team, although it too fell under the powerful blows of the Everett squad, did succeed in coming closer to the giants than any other school. In the second game between the two schools, Wa-Hi pulled up to within three points of the champs, and were still there when the final gun sounded. Everett whipped every other team they played by at least 15 points, with the exception of Yakima, whom they nosed out by 10 counters.

Wa-Hi whipped Sprague by five points to earn their way to Seattle to enter the state tournament, where they lost two games by scores that were nothing but heartbreakers.

The basketball schedule was full and tough. In past years, Wa-Hi had centered most of its basketball activity against only a few of the larger schools of the state, and mostly to the smaller ones. However, this year, the second in the cross-state league for the Imps, Wa-Hi fans had the opportunity to see their heroes in action against some of the best high school teams in the state, if not the entire United States.

Some of the scores of the season were:

BOXING

Dave Gibbs, 118; Bobby Sporleder, 105; and Harold Hanson, 200; are Wa-Hi's contributions to the ranks of state high school boxing champions. They won their titles at the spring meet in Pullman.

The boxing team coached by Bud Sporleder, had smokers with Dayton, Mac-Hi, Clarkston, and Pomeroy.

In addition to the champions mentioned, the squad was composed of Neil Schaub, 147; Neiswanger, 165; Jacky, 120; O'Brien, 124; H. Williams, 145; La-Verne Williams, 132; Bobbie Sporleder, Melvin O'Brien, Bob Holderman, Jack Kinman, and Birney Daggett.

The Blue Devils as a team annexed the state championship in boxing and wrestling this year. Many of the boys taking part in both sports are underclassmen giving promise of good glove and mat teams for several years to come.

In all their bouts, Wa-Hi boxers showed an aggressiveness and determination that speak well for their training. The boys evidenced stamina as well, not seeming to tire as quickly as most of their opponents.

Bobby Sporleder, a freshman, is hailed as one of the best boxing prospects that Wa-Hi has had for many years. Interest in boxing and wrestling has increased greatly within the last four years, both from the standpoint of student participation and from that of support by the public.

BASEBALL

Passing through their second season under the leadership of coach Wayne Welch, the Blue Devils turned out their perennially strong baseball team this year.

The schedule grows tougher year by year. A newcomer to the list this year was the Mission Indians, a team composed of members of the Indian reservation near Pendleton. The Indians and the Imps split a tight doubleheader in the wind on April 27.

At the time of this article, Clark and Costello have been the leading power hitters. Garland, Melton, and Klicker, a newcomer to third base, hit the most often, and their hits all seem to be just out of reach of the defensive basemen.

Garland, Coultas, Spohn, and "Sling" Costello, regular centerfielder, are the leading pitchers, with Wesley Shaw, fast improving junior, ready at all times with his superb relief hurling. Clarke and Melton change off at the catcher's spot, both boys being exceptionally good backstops. First base is well tended by "Gluepaw" Dick Eggers, and his understudy "Red Rock" Stone. The rest of the infield is formed by O'Brien at second, Fouts at shortstop, and Klicker at third. Reserves for these spots are Fuller, who can play anywhere on the team and Frankie Garrett.

Outfielders are: Angelo Costello, "Gabby" Fulgham, Herb Garrett, and several other players who roam the gardens when they are not required as pitchers or infielders.

All in all, the baseball team can be seen progressing week by week and game by game, and the continuous run of underclassmen assures Wa-Hi of a good ball club again next year.

Schedule of games until press time of the Royal Blue:

 Second row: Page, Harding, Otis, Oliver, Merkle, Stonesifer, Bergevin, Smedes, Neslin
 Third row: Morehouse, Doak, Torrey, Kenney, Gilliam, Martin, Gale

TRACK

Although the 1940 track team showed a slight tinge of greenness, their work was better than might be expected.

Erdman, Gilliam, and Bowers were the only three returning lettermen, and the bulk of the team was freshmen and sophomores.

Erdman, Merkle, Bergevin, Stonecipher, and Vague were the leading dash men, with Bowers, Gilliam, and Alvin Hanson leading the distance men.

Loris Gale leaped the hurdles for the fleet-footed Imps. Morehouse handled the high jumping duties. Carleton Conkey, when he was not tossing a javelin, was the leading broad jumper for the team.

Oliver, Neslin, and O'Dell entered in the discus throwing events of most meets. O'Dell also threw the shot, and the javelin. Darrell Gillman, distance man, also threw the iron ball in the weight events.

At the time we go to press, the Imp tracksters have whipped Mac-Hi, placed high in the Cross-State Relays and placed second in the Ritzville Relays.

Remaining meets throw the Imps against Dayton twice, Mac-Hi again, and a triangular meet with Mac-Hi, and Dayton. The sub-district and district meets will be held here, and qualifiers will enter the state meet in Pullman.

FENCING SQUAD

First row: Russell, Harvey, Palmer, Longmire, Mackie, Barre
 Second row: Eggers, Hoover, Cation, Van Atta, Ringhoffer
 Third row: Pringle, Boldman, Sooter, Craver

FENCING

Under the tutelage of Major Allison, a former Olympic participant, Wa-Hi boys' and girls' fencing teams have compiled an enviable record.

The scarcity of high school fencing teams has forced them to compete largely with college teams and other more mature groups. In spite of this competition, no girls' group defeated the Wa-Hi girls' team during the current year.

The boys' team beat Whitman College 5-4; Reed College, 5-4, and 7-2; and lost to the Amateur Fencing Club of Portland, 2-7.

They also won from Benson Technical high school of Portland 5-4, to win the Northwest Interscholastic fencing championship and give Benson its first defeat in three and one-half years.

In Portland the girls' team won from a picked team of girls 6-3.

At the Inland Empire meet, Wa-Hi boys placed second and the girls placed fifth among all teams participating. The boys defeated the Hillyard Booster Club, 5-1; and the "A" team from Cheney (College) 5-3. They lost to the Spokane Fencers' Club, 1-5.

The girls won from Cheney "B" team, 5-0; and lost to the Cheney "A", 2-5; and the Hillyard Booster Club, 0-5. This match was much closer than the score indicates for nearly every individual match was won by a 5-4 score.
